THE OFFICIAL MAGAZINE OF THE  PADI DIVING SOCIETY

Dear budding photojournalist,

This letter confirms that Sport Diver magazine, the official magazine of the PADI Diving Society, is interested in publishing a feature on Puerto Galera in the Philippines written and photographed by one of you. Providing the text and images are up to our usual high standard, the piece will appear in print towards the end of 2008.

It is envisaged that the main article will provide an overview of the diving possibilities available in and around Puerto Galera, with the potential for box-outs on the marine parks, land-based activities and anything else you think is relevant to our readership.

Brendan O'Brien will be able to offer assistance and steer you on the right path, but it is important that the finished piece showcase your own personal writing style and be informative, interesting and, most critically, a cracking good read. Think about your photograph selection and choose a rich mix to illustrate your article.

Good luck!

Yours sincerely
